

We measure only the performance of the money that was invested. We factor in any cash received in the form of dividends from stocks purchased and any realized cash that was held resultant of the sale of a stock. We do not however factor in sums received for investment that did not enter the investment cycle. Please remember that past performance is no guarantee of future results.

Portfolio Performance

In January 2026, Vietnamese stocks rose over the month, with strong buying momentum driving the market higher. Investor sentiment was positive, supported by broad gains across large-cap stocks, while trading activity remained high and foreign investors were active. Smaller stocks had mixed performance, but overall the market ended the month on an upward trend. In January 2026, Hanoi index is up by 3% and Ho Chi Minh index is up by 2.5%. Our reference portfolio is up by 4.1%. Anh Thomas returns over the long run are quite impressive.
